

SALES & TECHNICAL SUPPORT SPECIALIST

Turn your passion for performance vehicles into a career.

GiroDisc Racing Brakes is seeking a knowledgeable, customer-focused Sales Specialist to join our growing team. If you're someone who enjoys track days, understands the automotive world, and thrives on solving problems, this is a great opportunity to turn your enthusiasm into a rewarding career.

What You Will Do:

As a Sales & Technical Support Specialist, you will be the first point of contact for racers, enthusiasts, and shops worldwide. You will:

- Respond to customer inquiries via phone and email
- Recommend products tailored to each vehicle's setup, usage, and performance goals
- Troubleshoot technical issues and provide guidance on installation and fitment
- Process and track orders from initial inquiry to final delivery
- Collaborate with our in-house engineering and production teams

Each day brings new vehicles, unique questions, and fresh challenges—keeping the work dynamic and offering continuous opportunities to learn and grow.
